The IISPV's quality policy is integrated into its Strategic Plan and is framed in its mission, vision and values.

1. MISSION

The Pere Virgili Institute for Health Research is a Public Institution dedicated to promoting, consolidating and transferring the results of its research capacity and innovation, to strengthen the health system, providing solutions that improve people's health and citizens' well-being.

2. VISION

We want the Pere Virgili Institute for Health Research to be a local and international benchmark in biomedical research and innovation, obtaining relevant results that translate into an efficient, sustainable and reputable model, constantly increasing our talent asset, knowledge and the ability to grow in resources at the service of our society.

3. VALUES

- IDENTITY: We work in a multidisciplinary, transversal and integrative environment that, in its diversity, commits us to an objective of cooperation in common and constant improvement.
- ADAPTABILITY: We are restless, critical and curious professionals who want to carry out our activity always at the highest possible level, being able to be open, to continuously improve and to achieve the complexity and transformative and innovative evolution of what we do.
- COOPERATION: We are willing to share our knowledge and integrate it with other research entities to generate greater value and achieve better results in profitable partnerships.
- HONESTY: We feel the need to act incorporating ethical and social responsibility criteria, being aware that we must periodically report in a transparent way our contrasted and evaluated results to our Employers, professionals and citizens.
- PROXIMITY: We work being aware of and oriented to the reality of health demand, focused on and prioritizing health problems that offer the best results that our health system demands and that benefit our citizens.

It is the responsibility of the Management to provide a comprehensive quality model that cuts across the entire institution. For this reason, the Management of the Institute establishes its Quality Policy and declares its Commitment and General Guidelines in terms of Quality, in the following objectives:

- Vocation of service to research staff, patients and society in general.
- Develop efficient and effective management of resources, based on processes and procedures, and their continuous improvement.
- To develop an organisational structure of the institute in all its scientific and management areas, as well as the scientific-technological infrastructures and platforms to generate a common and efficient working environment.
- To guarantee the quality and good practices of our activity in order to meet our objectives of generating knowledge and provide solutions for health problems and their potential transfer to clinical practice and the productive fabric.
- To guarantee compliance with current obligations in terms of ethics, confidentiality, R+D+i management and transparency.
- To promote the policy of social responsibility in scientific activity.
- Promote the development of people, through gender and cultural equality, accessibility and recognition.

The IISPV believes that the responsibility for the correct application of these principles lies with the entire organization, expecting all staff to collaborate in their development.

This policy will be reviewed annually by the IISPV Quality Committee and Management, and is available to all interested parties.
