Latest news:

- New Clinical Trial Map Launched in the EU. The EMA has introduced a clinical trial map within the Clinical Trials Information System (CTIS), allowing patients and healthcare professionals to easily find trials across Europe. Users can search by location and medical condition, with contact details available for direct inquiries. The map is currently in English, with more languages to be added in future updates.
- IHI andIMI: Laying the foundations of the European Health Data Space. IMI andIHI projects provide a neutral platform where public and private datasets canbe shared within a secure environment. This means that IHI and IMI projects arethe perfect testing ground for fulfilling the ambitions of the European HealthData Space.

Seeking Consortium for IHI Call 9: Boosting Innovation in Healthcare

Topic: Health

Host Organization: Germans Trias i Pujol Research Institute (IGTP)

---

Seeking/Offering: The IGTP (Institut d'Investigació en Ciències de la Salut Germans Trias i Pujol) is seeking a consortium for the IHI Call 9, with a focus on advancing healthcare innovation.

Detailed information about this opportunity:

What IGTP brings to the consortium:

1. eHealth Expertise: Development of digital health solutions, including the eSalut app (<https://www.hospitalgermanstri...>), a platform that enhances patient empowerment by providing digital tools for remote monitoring, personalized care, and fostering better communication between patients and healthcare providers. This platform supports the transition to more integrated and patient-centered care models.
  2. Patient Experience Methodology: Utilization of methodologies like Design Thinking, focus groups, and qualitative assessments to gain deep insights into patient needs and preferences, ensuring healthcare solutions are aligned with their expectations.
  3. Shared Decision-Making Programs: Development of programs that promote shared decision-making, a critical future shift in healthcare. This encourages collaboration between patients and healthcare providers, ensuring more personalized and informed decisions.
